

Can you accept responsibility for the harm you have caused?

Restorative justice brings those harmed by crime, and those responsible for the harm, into communication, enabling everyone affected by a particular incident to play a part in repairing the harm and finding a positive way forward.

Restorative justice gives victims the chance to have their say, to get answers to their questions, and to move on with their lives.

Restorative justice gives offenders/the person that caused harm an insight into the real impact of their behaviour, and an opportunity to make amends.

Restorative justice is not designed to replace criminal justice proceedings; alongside and integrated with criminal justice it can deliver benefits that traditional criminal justice on its own cannot.
